COOKIE POLICY

We inform you that the website <http://actfor> uses a browsing system that collects specific browsing data ("Cookies") to offer a more personalised service to website users.

Cookies are small text files that the browser stores when browsing web pages and applications. In general, these technologies can be used for a variety of purposes, such as recognising you as a user, obtaining information about your browsing habits or personalising the way content is displayed.

The NOVACT Association (NOVACT Institute of Nonviolence) uses third-party cookies on its website:

- Analysis cookies: These are processed by third parties and allow us to quantify the number of users and thus carry out statistical measurement and analysis of how users use the service offered. To do this, your browsing on our website is analysed to improve the range of products or services provided. The third is Google Analytics, which is a web page statistics service provided by Google Inc. Google Analytics collects information from the user's device to obtain reports on the activity of the application and stores the information collected by cookies on servers in the United States, which involves an international transfer of data, and therefore, by accepting these cookies, you consent to this transfer.
- Behavioural advertising cookies: these are cookies that, when processed by third parties, allow us to analyse your Internet browsing habits to display advertising that matches your browsing profile. Google Inc. provides the service.

In any case, if personal data is collected—in this case, only the access IP address—we inform you that it will be processed under the responsibility of the NOVACT Association (NOVACT Institute of Nonviolence).

The purpose of this processing is to manage and control the social networks available, as well as the users who interact on the website and the information obtained, with consent being the basis for the legitimacy of this processing. This data will be transferred to the companies that manage cookies and will be stored in accordance with the parameters stipulated by these companies. This data will be transferred to third countries. You can obtain more information about this in Google's own policy: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=ca>.

In accordance with data protection regulations, we inform you that you may revoke these authorisations through your own browser or exercise your rights of access, rectification or deletion, limitation of processing or opposition, as well as the right to data portability, by contacting: The NOVACT Association (NOVACT Institute of Non-Violence) or send an email to: **hello@actxpalestine.com**

You may also complain to the Spanish Data Protection Agency.

Users are informed that Google may transfer this information to third parties when required to do so by law or when such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate the user's IP address with any other data held by Google and will therefore do so in a completely anonymous manner.
